

Classroom Management:

Mr. Goergen

Respect and support are the cornerstones of the art room climate. Students are encouraged to express themselves in a supportive, non-threatening environment. Students are expected to show care for themselves and others. Abusive language or demeaning action toward other people, the art tools or toward the artwork is not permitted. Students are expected to work toward excellence.